CALL DOCTORS IN MRS. ANGLE TRIAL

EXTRA HEAR FOR MANS LAUGHTER'S LIFE

MRS. HELEN M. ANGLE, AS SHE APPEARED IN COURT ON TRIAL FOR MANS LAUGHTER

This photograph, taken in the Circuit Court at Bridgeport for the AMERICAN, shows Mrs. Angle, as she appeared at the opening session of her trial on the charge of killing Walter R. Ballou. Seated at her side is her father, Leonard Blomfield, who insists his daughter is innocent. In front of her is her chief counsel, former Judge N. C. Downs, and his assistant, Jacob Klein.

COLONEL STONE, FOUNDER OF FAMOUS MUSEUM, IS DEAD

Colonel Frank P. Stone, whose name is linked with the name of "the famous museum," "the big lady," "the bearded lady," "Professor Hatching" and all the other freaks and celebrities of the old Austin & Stone Museum in Tremont row, died today at his home in Wellesley of pneumonia.

Colonel Stone had been ill less than a week. Last Sunday his condition became critical.

Colonel Stone was the proprietor of Austin & Stone's, an institution that was as unique as it was famous. Bostonians knew the old museum intimately, and to visit came to the city that didn't visit the Tremont row exhibition of freaks.

Colonel Stone was popular. He was a pioneer in the museum line of entertainment, and when his museum was known as the "father of the freaks."

He was born in Biddeford, Me., and passed in Christchurch.

The museum had only brought him fame, but also fortune. He was a

FEEL FREE CASE TO PELLETIER

SAY BLOW KILLED BALLOU

BRIDGEPORT, Ct., March 4.—When Mrs. Helen M. Angle, charged with manslaughter following the death of Walter R. Ballou of Stamford, began her first real day of trial here today she was greeted by a crowded courtroom, spectators of both sexes packing it as closely as possible in their efforts to hear what might be developed during the progress of taking testimony.

Following the selection of a jury yesterday two witnesses were put on the stand, their testimony laying the foundation for today's details.

Dr. Otto H. Schultze of New York was the principal witness called yesterday. He testified that he had made a secret autopsy on the body of Ballou in a cemetery at Winchenon, Mass., on July 14, 1911. He declared that the body had been disinterred for the purpose. The other witness heard was Thomas A. Brennan, an undertaker of Stamford.

Captain Willie Waring says that there is no danger of his ship so being able to get through.

Banks to Help Farmers Urged

The establishment of banks for the rehabilitation of agricultural mortgagors is the subject of a bill introduced to the Legislature by Senator Wilfred Wheeler of the State Board of Agriculture and Secretary R. J. Talbot of the Commission for the Development of Transportation Facilities for Western Massachusetts.

Under the plan banks would be established to promote rural mortgage credit and to liberate real estate. The undertakings would comprise circulating of loans on first mortgages, security on agricultural lands. The issuing of loans secured by mortgages on land.

Pledging of mortgages obtained as security for bonds issued.

Sale of such bonds and reinvestment of the proceeds.

Mr. Wheeler and Mr. Talbot said the proposed banks would provide the means available for the development of unimproved lands and would add a much-needed impetus to agriculture.

GAMBLING IN BLACK BAY HOTEL

New charges that Harry K. Mansfield, proprietor of Kennecott Inn, and defendant in the "Toodles" $30,000 breach of promise suit, transferred his Pennecott gambling game to a Black Bay hotel and ran it there during the two months of November and December before District Attorney Pelletier of Suffolk County.

The filing of these charges means that Mansfield's acts will be investigated by both the grand jury of Essex and Suffolk Counties. The Essex County charges have been told exclusively in the AMERICAN—how it is charged that voters were dumped into Mansfield to swing the town "veer" that Pennecott might have its license and that citizens of Mansfield were controlled by Mansfield. Judge Pelletier has laid before District Attorney Sullivan of Essex County the evidence of gambling by quietest and marked cards, all of which came out in the "Toodles" trial under oath from witnesses.

Now come the new charges of gambling in Suffolk County. The AMERICAN today gives these charges for the first time. Though District Attorney Pelletier of Suffolk County, like the District Attorney of Essex, cannot, under his oath of office, reveal the secrets of his office, it follows, in the very nature of things, that these new charges of gambling in Suffolk County will be taken up by the grand jury of the county. They are a most sensational sequel to the "Toodles" trial revelations. Here are the charges laid before District Attorney Pelletier of gambling in Essex.

The gambling is alleged to have taken place in a room in a well-known Black Bay hotel during the "Toodles" trial.

A number of well-known men about town came to this room and played roulette and other gambling games. Their names are known and they will be named to District Attorney Pelletier.

The roulette wheel, it was said, was in Mansfield in this hotel room.

Complaint was made to the police of the Black Bay hotel.

The proprietor of the hotel heard of the complaint and immediately ordered that everything in the room be removed from the hotel. The things were moved out.

$1,450,000 Made in One Year by Draper Co.

The statement of 1914 earnings of the Draper Company of Hopedale, makers of textile machinery, showed today that the company has gained nearly 50 per cent in earnings over those of the preceding year.

The earnings net about 21 1/2 per cent for the common stock. The exact earnings for the past year figure out at about $1,450,000. During the year, exclusive of a $25 extra dividend, announced as paid from surplus, there were regular dividends of 12 per cent on common and 8 per cent on preferred stock.

On the basis of the past two years, which includes the four-month strike of the Spring of 1912, the normal Draper profit range would be $1,200,000.

Newton Home Robbed as Family Dines

BRITISH TROOPS LANDED

LONDON, March 4.—Ten British warships, including the superdreadnought Queen Elizabeth, both with their fifteen-inch guns, today continued the bombardment of the inner forts in the Dardanelles, according to a cable message from Athens.

Other warships of the allied fleets are shelling the forts from the Gulf of Saros.

The dispatch also stated that British landing parties found in the ruins of destroyed forts heaps of bodies of Turks and Germans which had been incinerated in the ruins.

The bombardment was renewed with extraordinary intensity on both sides, suggesting the eruption of a volcano, the Athens report says. Everything was blown in the air and at no point could the Turks reply to the bombardment. The forts at Kilitli, Bahr and Chanak were destroyed.

The bombardment showed the

BRITISH LAND LARGE FORCES FOR THE ATTACK UPON CONSTANTINOPLE

Allied Fleets Pushing Ahead in the Dardanelles, Battering Down More Forts.

Another version of the battle in the Dardanelles appears in a dispatch from Constantinople via Amsterdam. This says that it is reported that a torpedo boat which was taking part in the bombardment of the Dardanelles has been sunk by the Turks.

The allied fleet fired six shells at the Dardanelles forts without success. The lighted up the Turkish batteries which added the Turkish batteries that were the result of the bombardment. The Turkish batteries were reported to be in a state of readiness and that an attempt was made to penetrate the straits and that they were ordered to retire before the first of the Turkish batteries.

RIG FORCE LANDED.

Great Britain has landed her first troops for the attack upon Constantinople. The military expedition not only relieves the sailors and marines who were previously put ashore to hold the warships in their campaign against the Dardanelles but also provides a mobile force for the actual land expedition by which the taking of Turkey in Europe from the straits is expected to be the lightest. The new force comprises French troops from Morocco, Cambodia, and the British Egyptian troops in small quantities and Australia.

It is presumed that the major portion of this force was quickly transferred from Egypt when the danger of a Turkish invasion by way of the Suez Canal ended.

General D'Amade commands the allied forces. The British troops are at Cape Marone reports that he saw ten gun, two machine guns, and a few soldiers undoubtedly transferred, proceeding seaward. This is supposed to be a second body of infantry troops.

With the arrival of the land forces it is expected that the advance in the strait will be pushed more rapidly. It was obviously impossible for the fleet to make any real progress until the land forces had been dispatched to meet the Turks. The Turkish mobilization in great strength.

TROOPS ON BOTH SIDES.

The military forces are being placed in position on both sides of the straits, the first landing having been made on the Asiatic side.

A dispatch from Athens says that the allies have a total of fifty-two warships on the scene.

TURKISH NAVY INACTIVE.

It is reported that the three submarines which Turkey received over from Germany have not yet been put together. The Turkish fleet has not cut any figure in the operations, and it is only because of the vast difference in the number of ships between the allies and the Turks that the Turkish navy is able to maintain its position.

The Turkish capital is reported to be in a state of panic with fugitives seeking safety in Asiatic Turkey. The allied forces are now but thirty-seven miles from Constantinople.

The latest British Admiralty report of the situation follows:

The operations in the Dardanelles were resumed at 11 o'clock Monday morning when the British fleet and the allied forces entered the straits and attacked Fort No. 3 and the batteries at White Cliff.

The operations in the evening brought the report that several new gun positions had been prepared by the enemy but that no shot was fired in them. The operations also located surface mines.

During Monday night a force of mine sweepers, covered by destroyers, swept the mine field off Cape Kereke and their work, which was carried out under fire, is reported to have been excellent. The casualties sustained during the day were slight, amounting to only six wounded.

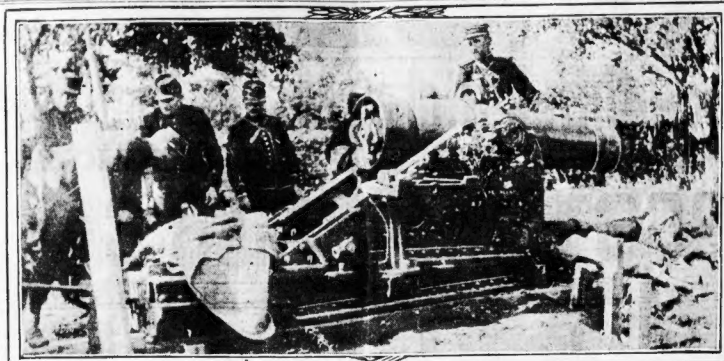

Four of the French battleships operated off Gullari and bombarded the batteries and communications.

THREE SHIPS STRUCK.

The operations at the entrance to the straits, already reported, have resulted in the destruction of thirteen guns, ranging from six to eleven inches, eleven guns below six inches, four Nordenfiet guns and two searchlights. The Turkish fleet was reported to have been demolished.

A further report stated that on Tuesday the Canopus, Swiftsure and

KAISER PRAYS FOR VICTORY FROM THE BOWING OF BLOOD

HEILIG, March 4 (Via Associated Press).—The Kaiser has sent to the Brandenburg provincial diet the following message:

Providence can be proud of the famous deed, of Jerusalem that city was destroyed and that the French fleet has been captured. I hope to God that this painful sacrifice of blood and treasure, which has been brought to the altar of Fatherland, will constitute a saving risk in victory for the future German people.

GERMANS DECLARE RUSSIAN VICTORY IN POLAND UNIMPACT

BERLIN, March 4 (By Wireless).—Admitting that the situation after the capture of Przemysl was critical for the German troops, the German general staff issued an official report today stating that the retreat from that city was orderly and that the Russian troops in the Northern Poland were not able to disturb the German lines. The statement says that the Russian victory is without military significance, and that the German troops have suffered heavily.

ADVANCED TWO MILES.

The allied fleet yesterday bombarded and reduced to silence the forts of Dardanelles, Hamidieh and Tenedos, on the Asiatic side of the straits. The telegram station at Bosphorus also was demolished.

THE BOMBARDMENT OF CONSTANTINOPLE.

PRESIDENT SIGNS NEUTRALITY BILL

WASHINGTON, March 4.—President Wilson today in the presence of the members of his cabinet and a large group of senators affixed his signature to the neutrality resolution, a measure which gives him increased power in handling the war situation during the recess of Congress.

President Wilson held the "win hand" in the war situation as a result of the resolution, and administration officials were jubilant. This measure gives the President power to deal with any of the shipping companies likely to arise. It empowers him to stop all ships of American registry from leaving American ports. It is recognized that the government may risk business might suffer heavy losses if American ships were allowed to take hazardous chances in the war zone.

The actions of the President under the resolution will place him in a position to place his stamp upon developments in the negotiations between the United States and England and Germany.

Administration officials ridicule the idea that the resolution gives the President power to place his stamp upon what or anything of that kind. They say there is no "flicker" in the resolution or any concealed purpose.

GIRLS! GIRLS! YOU MUST TRY THIS! DOUBLES BEAUTY OF YOUR HAIR

For 25 cents you can make your hair lustrous, fluffy, and abundant.

Immediate—Yes! Certain—that's the joy of it. Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after a Dunderine hair cleanse. Just try this—moisten a cloth with a little Dunderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or excessive oil, and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair. A delightful surprise awaits those whose hair has been neglected or is scraggly, faded, dry, brittle or thin. Besides beautifying the hair, Dunderine dissolves every particle of dandruff, cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair—thin and downy at first—yet—so—really new hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair, and lots of it, surely get a 25-cent bottle of Dunderine. Dunderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and just try it. For sale by Riker-Jaynes and all good druggists—Advertisement.

Not just a flavor—but a wholesome nourishing addition to fowl, game, meat and fish.

Red Sox on Way to South Large Crowd Sees Getaway

By A. H. C. MITCHELL

It was "Getaway Day" for the Red Sox today as they left for their spring training camp at Hot Springs, Ark. The Sox will leave an uncommonly good one, judging by the great interest taken in the departure from the South Station today. Long before four o'clock the train to pull out there was a long line of fans and friends of the members of the Sox waiting to give the travelers a running send-off. A striking feature of the send-off was the demonstration of the newboys for their friend, "Happy" Newhall, "King of the Newboys" who will make his last trip to Hot Springs.
